

Key Investor Information

This document provides you with the key investor information about this Fund. It is not marketing material. The information is required by law to help you understand the nature and the risks of investing in this Fund. You are advised to read it so you can make an informed decision about whether to invest.

Atlante Target Italy Fund (the "Fund") a sub-fund of the
ATLANTE FUNDS PLC (the "Company")

Class A Shares – ISIN: IE00B1V6R242

Objectives and Investment Policy

The investment objective of the Fund is to achieve long term capital appreciation. The Fund will invest at least 80% of its net asset value ("NAV") in common stocks of the Italian market and the remainder in Euro bonds. The Fund will therefore have a predominant exposure to the Italian equity sector.

Essential features of the product which a typical investor should know:

- The Fund will also invest in bonds issued by commercial, governmental or supranational entities domiciled in countries whose government bond market is included in the JP Morgan Global Government Bond Index, denominated in a European currency.
- Investment in bonds may include investment in investment-grade or below investment-grade corporate or government bonds, which have a fixed or floating rate. Investment in below investment-grade bonds will not exceed 30% of NAV.
- Shares in the Fund may be redeemed on demand, subject to certain restrictions, on each Dealing Day.
- The Fund may use financial derivative instruments such as futures, forwards, foreign exchange contracts (including spot and forward contracts) and options for efficient portfolio management or investment purposes.
- The Company will reinvest any income that it earns from its investments.

Other Information:

- The Fund may be leveraged as a result of its use of financial derivative instruments, but such leverage will not exceed 100% of NAV at any time.
- Investment in the Fund is suitable for investors who expect to maintain their investment over the medium to long term horizon.
- Futures (including financial future contracts) may be used to hedge against market risk, to change the Fund's interest rate sensitivity or to gain exposure to an underlying market. Forward contracts may be used to hedge or gain exposure to an increase in the value of assets similar to these describe in investment policies section. Options may be used to hedge or achieve exposure to a particular market instead of using a physical security. Foreign exchange contracts may be used to reduce the risk of adverse market changes in exchange rates or to increase exposure to foreign currencies or to sift exposure to foreign currency fluctuations from one country to another.

Risk and Reward Profile

1	2	3	4	5	6	7
---	---	---	---	---	---	---

The Fund is categorised as 6 for the purposes of this table. This offers a potential of higher risk than a low risk fund however, with greater long term returns although there is a risk that the value of the fund could fall. It has been so categorised as due to the high volatility of the underlying securities and its benchmark fund.

- Historical data may not be a reliable indication for the future
- The lowest category does not mean 'risk free'.
- Risk category shown is not guaranteed and may shift over time

Investment in the Fund carries with it a degree of risk (which may change over time) which may not adequately be captured by the indicator:

- Market risk, changes in economic conditions can affect adversely the prospects of the Fund
- Operating risks and the risks relating to the safekeeping of assets
- Custodial risks including safe keeping of assets
- FDI use may increase or reduce the risks to underlying assets

Further details of risks associated with an investment in the Fund are set out in the Prospectus and Fund Supplement
